The eleven men who did this fighting are en- obedient servant titled to much credit for their bravery and gallantry. They are a noble band of heroes, and we feel proud to call them Kentucky mountaineers. Of such material are the men made who inhabit our mountain country.

Cap'. Smith is making preparations for another expedition against the thieving rebels who infect ed. Wayne and Logan counties, Va. Wherever he comes across bands of the enemy he will be sure to leave his mark. He is a fighting man, and knows exactly how to fight in the woods, having had a good many years' experience in the far West among the Indians.

PRETENDED RECRUITING OFFICER REPUDIA-TED.—The attention of General Boyle was called recently to the contents of a card issued by some person styling himself "George Crist, late Lieutenant, Company D, 4th Ohio cavalry," calling for recruits for Col. Metcalfe's new regiment of cavalry, and inviting them to rendezvous at Newport, Ky. In addition to the promise of the usual bounty and advance pay, Lieut. Crist, as an inducement to persons to volunteer, assures them they "will select their horses from the stables of rebel citizens, subsisting upon the rebels of the country." In short, he says, "we intend to confiscate, appropriate, and emancipate whatever our wants require." Adjutant McDowell, of Gen. Boyle's staff, called the attention of Col Metcalfe to the irregular mode of recruiting adopted by Lieut. Crist, and Col. Metcalfe replies by expressing his ignorance of "Lieut. Crist," assuring Capt. McDowell that none of his officers are authorized to exceed the regulations made by the Military Board in regard to recruit-

A PATRIOT -The Memphis Union Appeal of the 17th inst. says that the oldest man in Tennessee, by twenty years, ever has been, and is to day, a firm Union man. He resides in the Western District, is a native of North Caroline, and a relative of the honored and renowned pioneer of Kentucky's early history, the immortal Daniel Boone. The old gentleman is now ninetythree years of age, and he condemned and derided in his heart the wicked Southern rebellion, and unwaveringly and without deviation opposed it through its accursed history, even in the very hottes; of rebel tyranny. When his sen rode a hundred miles to consult his aged sire about voting Union or secassion on the 8th of June, 1861, the old man said: "Son, vote no ticket except the Union ticket, and never rebel against the ncble government of your revolutionary fathers.' This old patriot, whose every hair is whitened with honored old age, may live to see the last agonizing throes of the infamous rebal secession

BRUTAL MURDER BY THE REBELS .- Soon after the occupation of Pike county by the rebels, they arrested Mr. Peyton Justice, an old man of 78 years, whom they ratained in custody for severa days, and then took him to the words and show him dead. The ball entered the back part of hi. head and came out of his forehead. His body was left lying where he was murdered. The Sanday Valley Advocate says Mr. Justice was a Union man, but had never taken an active part against the rebellion. By reason of his advanced age he could not even use a musket to defend his home. He had committed no offence, and the only crime of which he was guilty was that of devotion to his country. He was a worthy citi zen of Pike county, where he has lived all his

EXCITEMENT IN THE SANDY VALLEY, - We learn from the Sandy Valley Advocate, of the 21st inst., that on Wednesday evening Quartermaster Kissinger, with a small squad of cavalry, arrived from Louiss, and reported that 3,000 rebels have (ccupied Paintsville, and that 2,000 more are but a short distance behind them, making their way down Sandy. The rebels report their number at 5,000, but it is believed by many citizens in the Valley that their number does not exceed 3,000. Colonel Cranor sent for reinforcements more than a week ago. One regiment was expected to arrive on the 20th. These forces, together with what Home Guards can be got together, will probably be sufficient to check the

ANOTHER REBEL OUTRAGE.—Captain William Ford, of Pike county, informs the Sardy Valley Advocate that the rebels visited the house of Mr. Lewis Sowerds, in that county, and robbed the family of everything their house contained. Mr Sowerd's mother, an old lady 80 years of age, was confined to her bed and unable to rise. The rebels rolled her out on the floor and carried away the bedding, not leaving a sufficient quantity for her to lie on or to cover her. Similar outrages are being committed in all parts of the country. The above is only one out of hundreds of such

A PATRIOTIC GIRL -The Muncie (Ind.) Press says: At a meeting in this county, held for the her betrothed, took him by the hand, and led him up to the stand where the recruiting flicers were taking the names of those who desired to enlist in the service of their country, and nineteen miles. then, without seeming the least abashed, in the presence of the large assemblage, kissed him and then laid his hand on the roll for him to sign

The river in Virginia which all the newspaper correspondents persist in calling the "Rapdan," is known in history and in the locality hrough which it runs as the "Rapid Ann." The urce and circumstances from which it derives its name, according to traditions told by an oldfashioned Virginia planter, would cure the veriest hypochondriac, if he was so fortunate as not to split his sides with laughter.

We learn from the Paris Citizen that the stable of Mr. John Griffith, of that piace, in the rear of his hotel, was destroyed by fire on Monday morning last. Three horses were burnt to death, and a mail stage and omnibus, together with the harness, were also consumed. The Methodist church, on the adjoining lot, was damaged by the fire in the capulo and cornics. The fire was the work of an incendiary.

DR LIVINGSTONE ATTACKED BY THE NATIVES IN AFRICA.-Rev. William Monk, of Cambridge England, his received an interesting letter from Dr. Livingstone, giving an account of his first hostile encounter with the natives in Africa: A tribe called Ajiwa had been employed to attack the Mangaiji villages, kill the men, and sell the women and children to the Portuguese for a mere triffe in calico. You cannot well conceive the state of disunion among the Mangaiji; the destruction of village after village produced no effort at union against the common foe. A massage was only sent down to Chibisa, as he is believed to possess a medicine capable of in believed to possess a medicine capable of in suring victory. The paramount chief, instead of aiding his suljets, kindly helped the slave-hunters over the shire. We found that the whole nation were fleeing, and, hoping to stop this and the effusion of blood, went to hold a parley with the Ajawa. Unfortunately, we came to them when in the act of burning three villages. The bishop (Macketzie) offered up a fervent prayer, and with the accents of that prayer we could distinctly hear the wail for the duad and peaceably were nullified by some Mangarji followers cilling out. 'Our Chibisa has come," and very unfortunately, although I heard it distinct ly, it did not strike the mind till afterwards that we were thereby deprived of the protection of our English name. They attacked us on all sides with poisoned arrows and four muskets, and I feel very ture that the latter were handled by Portuguese slaves. They certainly had the dress common among slaves at Tette, and there was a quare house, such as slaves often build, near the Ajawa villages.

It is marvellous that no one has yet offered to the War Department the new German gunpowder, the explosive force of which is said Recruits for the 15th Regiment Kento be greater than that of the powder now in

MONDAY, AUGUST 25, 1862.

The last Federal defeat at Gallatin is a lost the opportunity of exercising their galsadder affair than the first. Our troops evi- lant vocation, proposed to draw up for them a dently fought well. They fought heroically. They did all that brave men could do. But somewhat after this wise: "We, your loyal they were contending against an overwhelm- highway nen of Finchley Common and its ing force. They were outnumbered three or neighborhood, having, at great expense, laid

It is high time that these fearfully unequal | calling by the said inclosure of the said Comconflicts-one Union soldier to three or four mon of Finchley, humbly petition your honof them. The fact is not creditable to our such compensation as your honorable House generalship. It is most discreditable.

We this morning publish an address from General James S. Jackson to his constit- Liverpool memorial, in which the smuguents, announcing the vacation of his seat in the army. The gallant General expresses the hostile attitude assumed by the Federal Gov. Magoffin. Mr. Major, when our national hope that his constituents will approve the step he has taken. In this he can hardly be mistaken; for, though in his resignation they lose to go on, "very disastrous consequences will an able and faithful Representative, the coun- ensue to your memorialists and other merchants try gains a soldier of the highest order of valor, and shipowners!" And they pray, just as the teed rights of the South through the compromise of energy, and of skill. The painful suspense of the millions of loyal men who have been looking to the situation of the opposing forces in Virginia is in a great measure relieved. Indeed, they feel now a sense of security. The grand effort of the rebel army was to fall upon Pope before a union could be effected between him and Mc-Clellan, while the great endeavor on the Fed-Pope and McClellan are together, and their line of defence is the Rappahannock. In the fight, forty members of the 50th Indiana infantry, having their position in a stockade, repulsed four hundred guerillas. Every man of the forty showed himself a bero. The names of the whole number, we are told, have been taken by General Nelson, and their heroism will have its speedy and successful resistance was made and this glorious victory won, a hundred and eighty Federal soldiers, stationed in a stockade at Manskoe's creek, received an attack from the same band of guerillas, and, after firing two rounds, surrendered. What a contrast between the conduct of the heroic forty and the not heroic one hundred and eighty. The lat ter, to be sure, are said to have been without a commander, but, if they had been cool and resolute and brave, they could have beaten back the guerillas with great slaughter. There may have been no treason or downright cowcredit in it. Any true man would rather have lost an arm than have been concerned in it.

As for the disgraceful affair at Clarksville indignant people to punish it with the utmost promptitude and severity. Mercy or forbearance in such a case would be miserably out of place. The prisoners captured by the guerillas at Manskoe's Creek and Clarksville, like those previously captured at Gallatin, all gave their parole without hesitation not to pear arms against the rebel cause until regu- or traitor, we hope he will be hung or shet larly exchanged. This giving of paroles is if the facts of his capture were as they a violation of a late order of Gen. Buell and are stated. The country needs just such an will not be tolerated. There is no reason why men taken by the guerillas should make. Let him be arrested forthwith accept their discharge upon the parole of not taking up arms. Even if they were to refuse the guerillas could not bear them off as priseasing them and putting them to death, and they would scarcely venture to do the latter. At Gallatin, Manskoe's Creek, and Clarksville, the guerillas paroled nearly a thousand Federal soldiers, placed them in other words upon the list of non-combatants, and, if this wretched paroling business were allowed to go on, every guerilla band might go about mus- cers as were captured at Cedar Mountain are tering our soldiers out of service faster than kept in solitary confinement at Richmond and our civil and military authorities could muster allowed only bread and water. Fr'day night intelligeres of an engagement at Gallatin, Tennessee, on that day, but the statements as to the resul; were so vague and conflicting that we deemed it proper to exclude the information from cur columns. We now feel warranted in saying that there was an engagement there on Friday, between a force of rebel cavelry. perhaps Morgan's, and the Federal troops under ommand of Gen. R. W. Johnson. The rebels are said to have been seventeen hundred strong, while Gen. Johnson's forces embraced a portion of the Second Indiana Cavalry, and detachmen's of Col. Winkocp's Pennsylvania Cavalry, and Col. Haggard's Ky. Cavalry. The account of the affair, which we have by telegraph from Nashville, by way of Franklin, Ky., was made up and Bent on the evening of the day upon which the fight occurred, and would lead us to believe that two Lieutenants of Haggard's cavalry and six or eight men of the Kentucky and Pennsylvania cavalry had arrived at Nashville from Lebanon, reporting that General Johnson with his cavalry firce attacked Morgan's soldiers at Gallatin on Friday morning at ten o'clock, and that our forces were defeated. About four hundred of our forces escaped to Lebanon, and were on their way to Nashville, but General Johnson and the remainder of his force surrendered. The fight lasted from ten o'cleck in the morning till two o'cleck in the DARING THEFT.—On Friday last a man, dressed partially as a soldier, confronted a black boy Salt river road, and demanded the mule and saddle upon which the boy was riding. The boy nounted and rode away in the direction of Elizabethtown. He has since been traced, however, in the direction of Brandenburg, attempting to sell the mule by the way. When the rascal crossed the ferry at Salt river, he directed the ferryman not to carry any one in the same direction for two hours after his departure. STOLEN HORSE RECOVERED. - We stated on Saturday that a man had entered the stable of Messis. Davis & Bacon on Friday in the day time and taken a horse without authority. The man and horse were traced to a suburb of the city known as "California," where the thief, whose name is Jas. Farrell, was caught in the act of selling the horse for a nominal sum. Farrell was arrested and examined before Judge Johnston, who required time to give bail for his appearance in the Circuit Court in the sum of five Lundred

Roman Matrons: 'Rome or death!' I have heard these words resound from the lovely slopes of Sebeto to the piled up rocks of the Alps. 'Rome or death!' That is the oath taken by the proud sons of Palestro and Palermo. Women! do not blaspheme by calling Rome the land of the dead. How could there be death in the heart of Laly, in the heart of the world? The above of Laly in the heart of the world? The above of Laly in the heart of the world? The above of l'aly, in the heart of the world? The ashes of Party, in the heart of the work? The arms of Bome, the ashes of her unhappy sons have been buried, but there ashes are so impregnated with life as to be able to regenerate the world. Rone is a word that will arouse people as the tenp st raises the waves. Rome, the mother of Itanan grandeur! Was it not its history of giants, its wonderful ruins, that kindled in my young soul the flame of the beautiful, the ardor of generous designs? Rome! oh, Rome! who is not urged by thy very name to take arms for thy deliverance? hy very name to take arms for thy difference. Who feels not thus has not deserved the tender embrace of a mother, the ardent kiss of a lover. Such a one has only to restore a base heart to its original clay. Ladies, I am with you to death. The following proclamation has been issued by

Garibaldi, dated Bois Fienzi: The holy cause of cur country unites us again to day. Without asking where we are going, with smiles upon your lips, you have hastened hither to fight against arrogant foreign rulers. I ask only of Providence to preserve me your confidence. I can promise nothing but toils and troubles, but coefficiently rely upon your self-danial for well do I know you O mulisted removed. danial, for well do I know yor, O mutilated rem-mant of glorious battle! It is unnecessary to ask of you bravery is the fight; but I must ask you exist. The Romans, by their discipline, were enabled to become the masters of the world. Strive to gain the affections of the people, as you knew how to do in 1850, as well as the esteem of our valiant army, in order to bring about the unity of the country. There are other accounts of the MASON AND SLIDELL .- The Paris correspondent of the New York World says: affair, but the above is the most reliable. We Private correspondence, received by the late oreign mail, states that Mason and Slidell are have no report as to the number of casualties on sentiment inside and around the high officials of the French and English Governments. They have also been very attentive toward the mem-bers of the press of both countries, and have been n their account lavish in amusements of all on their account layish in ambendents of all kinds—balls, parties, soirees, etc. Of these occasions Slidell and Mason, but more particularly the former, never fail to give utterance in presence of their guests to high-sounding words, such as "our country's freedom," "our country's rights," "our country's independence"—words which never missed their effects upon the ears of a Angle Saxton or of a Frenchman. Personn an Anglo-Saxton or of a Frenchman. > It was lately stated at one of these parties, given in Pari, by a member of a legation well known in the United States, that Mason and Sli-dell had made the offer to the English and French Governments to give them the privilege of the coastwise trade and of the inland water naviga-tion as soon as the South would have been recognized—this privilege to last as long as ship build-ing in the South would not be as cheap as in the North or in Europe. This, independently of the free trade policy which the Southern Confederacy previ ion that European Governments are presently under the necessity of acknowledging the independence of the South, and to secure to it in advance the advantages of cheap navigation and

THE FRENCH GOVERNMENT -The Washington correspondent of the New York World writes: Some time ago I stated to you that immediate-y after the great battle before Richmond Jeff Davis ent a private letter to Louis Napoleon and Ogeen Victoria asking for an immediate recognition of the Southern Confederacy, stating at the same time the reasons why it could never be either or quered or surjugated. These reasons were argully set forth in a memoir systematically written, giving a historical summary of the events since the beginning of the war, and explaining to the French emperor their pretended rights and the conduct of the war since the fall of Fort Sumpter. It row seems that Louis Napoleon, after having taken cognizance of this letter, sent it to M. Thouvenel, who, struck by the facts therein contained, sent word to the French Consul in Richmond to come immediately to Paris in order to state whether or not Jeff Davis's asser-tions were true. We see by the late mail, that, in obedience to the orders received, this gentle-man has left R chmond and is now on his way to France, where he is anxiously expected.

Elizabeth Ramsey arrived here last night from Washington county, Alkinsas, having, like many others, been driven from her home by the guerillas. Her father and mother dead, and her family besides herself) being in Price's army, she was left alone, at the mercy of every marauding band that came along. In this situation she conceived the desperate idea of making her way to an uncle in Chicago. She accordingly, with six dollars and a half in her purse, started on her long journey. Shortly after leaving home, she was stopped by a party of gurrillas, who, finding that she was on her way "North," robbed her of her money, and treated her in the harshest manner. She informed us that she sometimes suffered from hur ger, but occasionally met with generous-hearted persons on the road, who deepgenerous-hearted persons on the road, who deeply sympathized with her, and relieved her more pressing wants. The wandering exile finally succeeded in getting beyond darger, and reaching the Pacific railroad, over which she arrived last night. With the exception of the trip by

in Chicago. - St. Louis Eve. News, 20th. FROM THE AFRICAN COAST -Advices from the West coast speak of the slave trad as having almost entirely ceased, notwithstanding the withdrawal of the American equadron. A sea captair, just returned, says that he craised along the entire coast from Monrovia to Lagos in the Bight of Benin, some eight bundred miles, without seeing single slaver. Meanwhile he was examined everal times by British steamers, which seemed be very active. The disappearance of the clavers is attributed partly to the operation of he British treaty with the United States, which permits the detention and search of suspected vessels, but more to the falling off in the demand or negroes on the Cuban sugar estates, consc-quent upon the American war, These facts are consistent with what is known t the slave trade in American ports. For one me past, as we hear it stated, the fitting out of aders here has almost entirely ceased. gitimate trade on the African coast is in a bealt fol condition, though we cannot reasonably expect large importations of palm oil while it is admitted into England free, and a customs duty of ten per cent. exacted in the United States. Already, some of our macufacturers lately engaged in working up this substance have discontinued operations, it being impossible to compete with manufacturers abroad under this fariff. Of course, the discouragement to African trade is serious, palm oil being the principal staple. Sufficient time has not yet clapsed to observe the effect upon trade of the recognition of Liberia by this government, though the exemption of vessels belonging to the African Republic from tonnage dues cannot operate otherwise than favorably.

This took place on the 28 h of June, at 4 P. M., when two men named Orlandoff and McGraw, from Logan men named Orlandoff and McGraw, from Logan county, in this State, who were riding in a rear wagon, were cut off and killed. The party in advance turned back to their as istance and found the unfortunate men dead, and their bodies barbarously mangled. A pursuit was made, and one of the Indians was killed, pierced with five balls of the avengers. The trains in that vicinity, and for ten miles ahead, were then consolidated and organized after a military fashion. Some scouting took place after the Indians, but none were found. At the date of the writing, the train consisted of sixty wagons, with a strong escort, the effect of the consolidation. Much damage has been done by hostile Indians this season to the trains, and a great deal of stock has been the trains and a great deal of stock has been stolen —Chicago Tribune.

GENERAL CASS ON THE WAR.—It has been known that General Cass has felt much interest in the progress of the war, and has very heartily espoused the cause of the Government. He has, however, made no public expression of his sentidale, Michigan, he made a brief speech, from which we quote:

Patriotism and policy equally dictate that our force should be such as to enable us to act with vigor and efficiency against our enemies and reduce them to unconditional submission to the laws. Foss will then be converted into citizens by the restoration everywhere of the constitution to its legitimate authority as it came from the hands of the framers. And shall this appeal be unheeded? A long life has taught me to know my countrymen better than to lear they will not answer to the calls made upon them. All, indeed, cannot repair to the field, nor is it nece sary they should do so. It is a small portion only of the citizens able to bear arms who are required to become temporary soldiers. But we can all be useful in this labor of patriotism; those who go, by the discharge of their military duties, and those who remain, by words and works of encouragement testifying the public feeling and gratitude, and by contributions for the health and comfort of our citizen soldiers, and not less effectually by upholding the justice of our cause and by carefully avoiding everything which would have a tendency to impact the efforts of the Government or to check the patriotic ardor of the people. Our business now is with the present and the future. The differences of the past, if not forgotten, should be adjurned till the standard of the Usion again floats, unopposed, rom Maine to Texas, and to the Pacific Ocean.

McMinnville, Tennessee, August 12, 1862. Sizes I wrote you last, we have been near Sparta, whither we went in pursuit of our wily foe, but he kept moving, and that at such a rapid rate that we found it almost impossible to overhaul him. However, while there is life there is hope; and inasmuch as we now hold the key to his fastnesses, he can do but little mischief, while his fastnesses, he can do but little miscriet, while we are prepared at any moment to act offensively. It is hard to approximate the enemy's force, but it is believed that a jarc ion has been formed between Morgan and Forrest, and that those outlaws have been joined by Starnes and Hood. If this is true, it is probable that their co-tined forces number near 8,000. They are said to be prepared as a few mountains, about ninetan or forces number near $,000. They are said to be encamped near the mountains, about nineteen or twenty miles from this place. However, small bodies of them sometimes muster c. urage enough to come within two or three miles of this place, and this, too, in spite of the fact that we constantly have large scouting parties out. They certainly made a bold dash on the 6th, when they captured three wagons and fourteen men within ix miles of this place, and within four miles of our pickets; but such is guerilla warfare. Unless small bodies of men go well armed and fully determined to fight to the last, we may often expect to hear of such accidents as this A soldier's maxim should be: "In war we are never safe." At any rate, he should adopt measures for defence, and be ready to stand to his arms at safe. At any rate, he should adopt measures for defence, and he ready to, stand to his arms at any moment, whether he be encamped in the centre of a division or upon an expedition through the country. Prudence next to bravery is a soldier's greatest virtue, and that soldier who possesses both is a true roldier indeed. We have found some very firm Union men in this country, men who have braved everything for the sake of their country. of their country. Such men may be called patriote; their all is at stake, their lives, their homes, their families, and their property; and yet, undismayed, they have remained true to the faith and Government of their fathers. Such men deserve to have their names recorded upon the Book of Time as the noblest of the noble and greatest of the great.

McMinnville is a quiet little town, containing between five and six hundred male inhabitants, between five and six hundred male inhabitants, that is when the runaways are at home. It is situated in the valley of the Little Barren, and presents a beautiful appearance, indeed, when first seen from the neighboring hills; it is the county seat of Warren county. Here flurished the Cumberlard Female Seminary, an institution which at one time was very popular in the South. Gen. Nelson's Headquarters are now at the Seminary, and perhaps this war presents no greater contrasts than the days which the old Seminary is now seeing, compared with those which have paised. I conctimes think it a great pity that walls have not tongues as well as ears, for if such were the case, what a history might I not now learn of the loves, and hopes, and dreams of many of the fair secesh who now spend their time in abusing those hateful Yankees, who are now in quiet possession of their a ma matr. However, I accidentally found a list of several classes, and there were some of the young ladies who, judging from their teacher's mark, must have been remarkably studious, while others were indelent beyond rewere some of the young ladies who, judging from their teacher's marks, must have been remarkably studious, while others were indolent beyond retheir teacher's marks, must have been remarkably studious, while others were indelent beyond redemption. But this is nonsense indeed; the idea of writing or even thinking more than once of the beauties we do know is nonsensical; then how much worse must it be to spend a thought upon those we do not know.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 23.

A man named John W. Garrett, formerly a resident of this city, was arrested here last night, having in his possession $335,000 in Coafederate shouting at the top of his voice, "Here they are, boys, raily!" The rebels, believing the world over.

President, and Dr. Irvin, of the U. S. A., Judge Advocate. This centr with have many important and interesting cases before it, and we sincerely hope its decisions may be such as to establish good precedents for the future punishment of criminals. Among the cases which will be tried may be mentioned as most important, that of a body of men who surrendered themselves to an insufficient force of the enemy in a most cowardly manner. Such surrenders are becoming too comments of the troops in this division who permits his their covardice, which in its requits is little better than treschery. I am confident that no Coorfedrate prisoners will be paroled by any of our commanding Generals, and I can account for the sudden generoity of the Confeds only upon the principle that they use the parole as a brile which is to induce recreant cowards to betray their cause and surrender themselves as prisoners of war. I am not alone in my opinion; but how detestable must that man be who will purchase life a tunch a price! His name should be placed upon the records of infamy as the blackest of the black and falsest of the false.

Another important case will be the trial of some men for committing unauthorized depredations upon private property. This is an evil which should be checked if possible.

The idea which some of our soldiers entertain, that they have a right to lay waste and destroy all before them, is one which if carried out would lengthen this war ten or fifteen years. Where it is politic to subsist the army upon the country, no levies are made save by authorized persons, who are also empowered to receipt for every cent's worth of property so taken, unless indeed it be in instances where the crops and other property are confiscated, and even then no straggler or other unauthorized persons has any right to touch a pin's worth, but it is taken as the property of the Government, and every cent's worth is to be accounted for to the Government by the parties deputed to execute the order of confiscation. This being the true visw of the case, how richly does that soldier deserve punish ment, who, disregarding the orders of his superior officers, rambles through the country nolly that he may be and plunder, not for the good of the case, how richly does that soldier deserve punish ment, who, disregarding the orders of his superior officers, rambles through the country nolly that he may be and plunder, not for the good of the late of the property of the country nolly that he may be an applied to the execute the order of confiscation. The Herald has Richmond papers of the 18th and 19th. The Richmond Examiner of the 18th thinks that a great battle was impending between the rebel army on the Rapidan and Can. Pope's forces at such time their Generals should be ready and not before, and that the battle-field would be in the vicinity of Culpepper.

The rebel Congress met in Richmond on the 18th, on which occasion Jeff Davis submitted his annual message. He leads off in his usual bypocritical style, and then alludes to the Federal Government as robbers, assassins, ad infinitum critical style, and then alludes to the Federal Government as robbers, assassins, ad infinitum He speaks of and recommends retaliatory measures to meet the laws recently passed by the Federal Government; rommends the issue of more rebel treasury shinplasters, and alludes to the building of rebel war vessels at home and abroad. The message betrays great signs of weakness in the retel Government, for no nation that has power in its hands ever puts forth such arguments as acquiesced in marder, rapine, &c., under the name of retaliation.

A HERO -During the fight between the Home Guards and the rebels at Pikeville, Mr. Harvey Childers, one of the Guards, became separated from his comrades, and found kimself on the top from his comrades, and found time of nother top of a high hill, alone. A company of rebels, about seventy-five in number, came to the hill and commenced ascending it. Mr. Childers concealed himself in a rock house, but, concluding he would be discovered, left his retreat for the purpose of making his way down the hill through the tall weets. Leaving his hiding place, he had proceeded but a few steps when he saw the weeds ahead of him shaking, and he knew the robels were coming. He crouched to the ground and waited a moment till he got sight of the foremost rebel.
